The Pacific Urethanes capability proposition is founded on three pillars.

- Advanced technology
- Customised Development
- Application Experience

In this newsletter we feature the first pillar:

Advanced Technology

Pacific Urethanes has a global network of suppliers at the forefront of polyurethane technology. Our relationship with them keeps us at the cutting edge with new products, processes and applications. Our formulating expertise enables us to translate these advances in raw materials development into improved products. This means our customers remain technically ahead of their competitors in their respective markets.

At Pacific Urethanes we are focussed on delivering Advanced Polyurethane Technology to our customers.

The experienced technical team at Pacific Urethanes is highly competent in the development and application of world class polyurethane systems.

We are the Polyurethane Formulation Specialists.
